Established in December 2006, The Harvey E. Najim Family Foundation Aimed at Helping Children's Charitable Organizations

Founder defines objectives and announces guidelines

San Antonio –April 5, 2007 – The details of a new foundation created by Harvey Najim, President and CEO of Sirius Computer Solutions, Inc., are announced today and made public. The Harvey E. Najim Family Foundation has been set up to support and help children in the greater San Antonio area.

Founded in 1980, Sirius Computer Solutions has grown from a small technology solutions provider serving Texas customers to a national IBM Premier Business Partner with over 5,000 customers across the U.S. In November, 2006, Sirius and Thoma Cressey Equity Partners, an investment firm, announced an agreement in which Thoma Cressey acquired an equity interest in Sirius. Mr. Najim used $75 million of the proceeds from that transaction to create the Harvey E. Najim Family Foundation.

"I am fortunate to be in this position," said Najim. "This community has provided so much for my company, my family, and me. I am excited about being able to give back. Awarding grants to non-profit organizations focused on children is my way of personally contributing to the future of San Antonio. I am hopeful that my foundation will help make a difference in the lives of children and increase the quality of life in our community."

Najim has hired an executive director of the foundation to solidify the objectives of the foundation and build program guidelines and criteria for choosing organizations that request funds. Recipients of funds will include 501 (c) (3) public charities that advance children's education, children's medical treatment, medical research for illnesses and diseases affecting children, and other children's charitable purposes. Grants will be awarded by the foundation's Selection Committee which consists of Mr. Najim and his two daughters.

"For more than twenty six years, I have been focused on building and creating a successful business," said Najim. "This foundation allows me to move from being a successful business leader to becoming a community leader focused on the needs of others."
