Sirius Computer Solutions selected as an IBM Enterprise X-Architecture™ program partner to sell the new IBM high-end xSeries server

World's Largest IBM Midrange Reseller Expands Offering

San Antonio, Texas – June 10, 2002 – Sirius Computer Solutions, an IBM Premier Business Partner and the largest IBM midrange eServer resellers in the world, has been selected as a national Enterprise X-Architecture™ (EXA) partner to sell the new high-end xSeries server. The IBM eServer xSeries 440 is the first xSeries system to incorporate the full scope of Enterprise X-Architecture technologies for a flexible new building-block approach to scalability and industry-leading advancements in performance, availability and systems management. The server is optimized for high-end databases, server consolidation and mission-critical e-business applications with support for 16-way SMP capabilities. With its LPAR capabilities, it is truly cutting-edge in today's market place.

Sirius was selected for the EXAct program as a result of their ongoing commitment to the IBM xSeries and their expertise with midrange server offerings. Sirius' certified technical and sales professionals deliver support to customers nationwide. The company further demonstrated their commitment to IBM and EXA by hosting a Sirius Customer Day at the IBM xSeries Executive Briefing Center in Raleigh, N.C. on June 11th. The executive briefing will focus on the new line of EXA products as well as IBM's future direction in the Intel marketplace.
