Sirius Receives NA Commercial Partner of the Year Award from Red Hat

The world's leading provider of open-source solutions recognizes Sirius at the recent Red Hat North America Partner Conference

San Antonio, TX – November 18, 2011 – Sirius Computer Solutions, Inc., a technology solutions provider and a Red Hat Advanced Business Partner, is the recipient of Red Hat's North America Commercial Partner of the Year Award for 2011. Sirius was presented with the award at Red Hat's annual North America Partner Conference held in Miami, Florida recently.

Red Hat recognized Sirius' strong partner performance in 2010—driving Red Hat business and investing in Red Hat competencies including UNIX-to-Linux migration, server virtualization, desktop virtualization and open-source technology adoption.

"We're excited to recognize Sirius as our North America Commercial Partner of the Year for the great impact our partnership has had on our business," said Roger Egan, vice president, North America channel sales and development at Red Hat. "Sirius has demonstrated a high level of commitment through its engagement and investment as a Red Hat partner and we look forward to the continued evolution of our partnership."

"We are honored to receive this award from Red Hat. Our partnership provides our clients with virtualization solutions for server and desktop, cloud computing solutions, enterprise Linux solutions and JBoss Enterprise Middleware, giving them more choice in technology solutions while reducing costs and improving business agility," said Chris Mierzwa, vice president for Servers, Storage and Cloud Strategy at Sirius. "We have made an investment in certifying sales and technical personnel who have the skills and expertise to help our clients design, configure and implement Red Hat solutions." > Click here to watch a short video

The Red Hat North America Commercial Partner of the Year Award acknowledges the top business partner who excelled at business goals, demonstrated outstanding order volumes and sales growth, and continues to contribute to Red Hat, its clients and the industry.
