Sirius Computer Solutions Ranks #82 in GovernmentVAR 100 Ranking

San Antonio – June 15, 2006 – Sirius Computer Solutions, Inc., an IBM® Premier Business Partner, has been recognized by CMP Technology's GovernmentVAR as one of North America's top technology integrators serving the public sector. Sirius placed #82 in the 2006 GovernmentVAR 100 ranking.

The 100 companies are the leading revenue producers among public-sector solution provider organizations that account for $85 billion in sales of information-technology (IT) services and products related to the federal, state and local government markets. The complete listing of the GovernmentVAR 100 appears in the June 12, 2006 issue of GovernmentVAR, published for government and education integrators and developers, by VARBusiness magazine.

Lawrence M. Walsh, GovernmentVAR editors, says, "As governments at all levels strive to become more and more efficient, companies like Sirius are providing increasingly critical services."

"Sirius combines significant investments in IT skills with investments in government procurement specialists who know how government agencies prefer to purchase IT products," said Joe Mertens, Executive Vice President at Sirius. "We carry several federal and state-term contracting vehicles, but we also frequently sell from vendor-held contracts which allow us to efficiently work with most federal, state and local government agencies."

To complete the 2006 ranking of the 100 largest North American solution providers focusing on the public sector, VARBusiness partnered with research firm Answers Research to help collect and analyze the data. VARBusiness designed the survey which was administered on its Web site. Finalists were ranked according to their fiscal year 2005 revenue, based only on their government reseller-related services business.
